General Rules

DIPLOMATIC BEHAVIOUR

CSMUN is a United Nations (UN) simulation; therefore, all student officers and delegates are expected to behave accordingly. Undiplomatic behaviour will not be tolerated throughout the two days of the conference. The official rules of the conference are intended to facilitate debate and ensure that the procedure runs smoothly, as well as guarantee that all members of the committee are able to voice their opinion.

According to the official THIMUN handbook, each delegate has the obligation to:

- respect the decisions of the Chair at all times;
- obtain the floor before speaking;
- stand when speaking;
- yield the floor when required to do so by the Chair;
- be courteous at all times;
- avoid the use of insulting or abusive language.<sup>1</sup>

PLAGIARISM AND ACADEMIC HONESTY

“Plagiarism is presenting work or ideas from another source as your own, with or without consent of the original author, by incorporating it into your work without full acknowledgment.”<sup>2</sup>

Plagiarism is strictly prohibited at CSMUN. Delegates are expected to create their own clauses and resolutions – consequently, there must be no use of already-existing clauses in their work. It must also be noted that the use of ChatGPT or any other AI-powered information engine is also forbidden if used for the production of clauses and resolutions. If there is due suspicion of a delegate plagiarising, the pupil’s adviser(s) will be informed and disciplinary measures will be taken.

DRESS CODE

As previously mentioned, the conference is a simulation of the UN; consequently, student officers and delegates alike are expected to dress professionally, as if attending the real UN. Specifically, attendees should opt for business jackets, proper shirts and shoes, as well as formal trousers/dresses/skirts. Attendees should refrain from wearing sports shoes and denim. It must also be noted that wearing national costume or military attire is prohibited.

Relevant Terminology

Lobbying: Time before debate when delegates are allowed to freely discuss amongst themselves their nation's stance on the assigned topic. During lobbying alliances/blocs are created and resolutions are drafted.

Debate: Time after lobbying when resolutions are discussed with the entire committee. During debate, every delegate can openly voice their opinion. In contrast to lobbying, debate follows a formal procedure and is overlooked by the Student Officers.

Student Officer/Chair: Individual overlooking lobbying and conducting debate.

The House: Everyone in the committee except the chairperson.

In Favour: Approving of a resolution/clause/amendment. Used during voting procedure.

Against: Disapproving of a resolution/clause/amendment. Used during voting procedure.

Abstaining: Choosing to remain neutral on a resolution/clause/amendment. Used during voting procedure.

To obtain the floor: To be given the right to speak by the chair of the committee during debate.

To yield the floor: To give up the right to speak when the delegate's speech is finished and all points of information have been answered. The delegate may yield the floor to the chairs or to another delegation. The floor may be yielded once consecutively and then to the chairs. BE CAREFUL! The correct terminology is "We yield the floor to the chairs." and not "We yield the floor back to the chairs."

Open Debate: Debate mode when discussing the resolution as a whole.

Closed Debate: Debate mode when discussing an amendment.

Amendments of the 1st Degree: Changes in the resolution as a whole. An amendment of the 1st degree may either introduce a new clause, modify an already existing clause or strike out a clause as a whole.

Amendments of the 2nd Degree: Changes to an amendment of the 1st degree. If an amendment of the 2nd degree passes, the entire amendment automatically passes.

- Personal pronouns are not in order in CS MUN, instead, delegates should always use the third person when referring to themselves (ex. "We are in favour of this resolution" or "The delegation of X wholeheartedly supports this amendment")

Points and Motions

Points/Motions	Description	Debatable	Votes Required	Chair's Discretion
Point of Personal Privilege	Used when a delegate feels discomfort. (ex. Temperature is too low/high, audibility)  This is the only point that may interrupt a speaker (only if due to audibility)	No	No	No
Motion to Approach the Bench	Used if a delegate wishes to talk to the chairs in private.	No	No	No
Point of Information	Used to question the speaker at the end of their speech. May only be used if the speaker opens themselves up to points of information.	No	No	No
Point of Parliamentary Inquiry	Delegates may ask for clarification concerning the rules of procedure.	No	No	No
Point of Order	Question directed to the chairs by a delegate who believes that a mistake has been made in the order of debate. Refers only to procedural matters.	No	No	No
Right of Reply	May only be invoked if a delegate feels that their country's national integrity has been insulted during the speech of another delegate.	No	No	Yes

Motion to Extend Debate Time	Refers to allocating more time debating on a particular resolution.	Subject to objection	Requires a second	Yes
Motion to Introduce an Amendment	Amendments are used to modify, add or strike out a clause. This motion is used when the submitter of the amendment wishes to begin debating about it.	No	No	Yes (Chairs will typically favour constructive amendments)
Motion to Adjourn Session	If a delegate or the chairs wish to dismiss debate until the next day.	No	No	Yes
Motion to Move to Previous Question	Delegates may wish to move to voting procedures during debate time.	Subject to objection	Requires a second	Yes
Motion to Return to a Dismissed Topic	If delegates wish to debate again about a topic already closed, they may use this motion.	No	Requires simple majority	Yes

Sample Resolution Structure

FORUM: Disarmament and International Security Committee (GA1)

QUESTION OF: The threat of systematic corruption to international security

SUBMITTED BY: Saint Vincent and the Grenadines

CO-SUBMITTED BY: United States of America, Mexico, South Korea, Democratic Republic of Congo, Norway

THE DISARMAMENT AND INTERNATIONAL SECURITY COMMITTEE,

Fully aware of the fact that people and organisations involved in most cases of systematic corruption have massive power and influence over many aspects of their state,

Recognising the development in the field of information for systematic corruption with adapted resolutions, such as the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) Resolution 2006/24 on the issue of “International cooperation in the fight against corruption”, General Assembly resolution 58/4 of 31 October 2003 United Nations on the “Convention against Corruption”, Resolution 6/1 on the issue of “Continuation of the review of implementation of the United Nations Convention against Corruption”,

Observing the influence of the United Nations Convention against Corruption (UNCAC) in this issue,

Having considered the implications of diplomatic affairs of member states in the process of combating corruption,

Deeply conscious of the problem of “systematic corruption” which affects the global as a whole and is not limited within a country,

1. Trusts that an anonymous body will carry out investigation about the presence of systematic corruption in all member-states of the UN, through representatives, observers and online monitoring of governmental servers and accounts;
2. Suggests preventive measures and policies, which will encourage each member state to:
  - a) establish and enforce harmonised anti-corruption policies that promote the participation of the citizens and reflect the principles of the rule of law, proper management of public affairs, integrity, transparency and accountability
  - b) endeavour to inaugurate and promote efficient practices aiming at the prevention of corruption
  - c) venture to periodically evaluate relevant legal instruments and bureaucratic measures;

3. Seeks that every member state aims to apply, within its own institutional and legal systems, codes or standards of conduct for the correct, honourable and proper performance of public sectors;
4. Emphasises that systematic corruption is linked to a country's increased vulnerability to terrorist attacks, originating both from the country itself and from external groups and individuals and therefore, finds it imperative that a global counter terrorism effort is made, which will include:
  - a) measures addressing the issues of centralised and decentralised corruption, by limiting the possibility of government officials and public entities to orchestrate, instruct and/or be involved in networks of terrorism
  - b) specific counter-terrorism practices, such as:
    - i. criminalising the financing of terrorists
    - ii. immediately freezing any funds related to those involved in acts of terrorism;
5. Considers that the public is made aware of the dangers of corruption through:
  - a) public lectures on the topic
  - b) articles in mass media
  - c) workshops
  - d) informative reports when corrupt government officials are found guilty;
6. Affirms the need of aid from Transparency International in the form of technical assistance and anti-corruption measures for all states facing systematic corruption, such as:
  - a) the use of online platforms to monitor and publish transactions.
  - b) the enforcement of deportation of foreign nationals or companies that bribe government officials or corporations.
